Title

Fact sheets on threatened and migratory birds

Continuing the series of educational materials for schools in the Americas, this poster-sized fact file highlights the Critically Endangered White-winged Guan (Penelope albipennis), found only in the dry forests of northern Peru, within the Tumbesian region. BirdLife's Preventing Extinctions Program is implementing a series of educational projects to raise awareness of the plight of the guan with local communities within its geographical range, especially educating against hunting, with funding from Field Guides Inc., and Fundación Biodiversidad. Materials from the World Bird Festival will be used in conjunction with this project.
