

Haribon embraces the iphone

Title Haribon (BirdLife in the Philippines) has launched a Birds of the Philippines iPhone app. It displays images of Philippine birds taken in the field by Haribon members along with descriptions of the species. It also allows users to send other pictures they have taken to Haribon for subsequent updates. Most of the proceeds of the US$1.99 goes to Haribon's bird habitat conservation work in the Philippines. Upcoming updates will feature bird sounds, more species, and the ability to record bird sounds in the field. The app can be purchased through the Apple iTunes Store
